

The Holiday Bureau Privacy Policy

Information security

Any and all personal information held by The Holiday Bureau will be securely protected by implementation of data protection guidelines, and to comply with our own security procedures.

These procedures are constantly updated to ensure customer information is not accessible to anyone other than The Holiday Bureau.

Customer information

Information provided by customers may include some personal details such as names, addresses, email addresses, etc. This information will only be used to ensure we understand your request, and provide the service you require. This information will NOT be sold or otherwise supplied to any other organisation or person.

The Holiday Bureau does NOT use cookies to gather information from your computer.

Any customer information we have has been supplied by our customers, and we are very happy to change or delete such information on request from the appropriate person.

Links to other websites

This website may contain links that we consider appropriate, and relate to our business. Every effort is made to ensure such sites maintain the highest standards of customer service and privacy.

However, The Holiday Bureau cannot be responsible for the content of any linked website.
